Letter of Recommendation

Considered to be a bright and hard working person, ASHWIN YADHAV KUMAR always had the mettle of an impressive student. I have known Ashwin for three years and taught him "Automata and Compiler design", "Information Security" and "Network Management Systems". I have also supervised him as an internal guide for both his mini and major project.

As a guide and Professor I have seen his performance to be always above average in both academics and extra-curricular activities. In academics, he stood among the top 4 students in his class throughout his educational year. He showed innate ability in remembering and reflecting anything taught to him. I have noticed he has a logical approach, that way making it simpler for him to break down problems and resolve them with effective solutions. The difficulty of the problems has never affected him and he has always maintained his composure.

His leadership and managerial skills are commendable. As a student convener he worked in organizing an event in campus by bringing together his peers. He also worked as the coordinator in all other events at campus portraying his abilities as a team player. He took the first step for any responsibilities raised and never disappointed anyone. He was the class representative and performed his duties without being biased and carried it out successfully. A healthy relation was always maintained with his classmates and also had a good rapport with his entire faculty.

His command over the language is impressive and was recognized for his eloquent style of speech. His presentations were received with applause and appreciated by the audience. He also keeps himself abreast with the technological advancements in his field of study and skillfully adds them in his presentations.

Altogether I was happy to have been of acquaintance with Ashwin and I strongly recommend his candidature for the master program at your reputed graduate school with suitable financial assistance.
